Building Your Prayer Palace

Allow God to use you to build a prayer palace for Him today; a tent of meeting where women who require a touch from God will gather; a refuge for the lost; a sanctuary for the afflicted; and a place where women having received their deliverance, will be beautified for service. Then sit back and watch God transform your life and home to the glory of His awesome name.

The bible records that Esther was in a situation where she required divine intervention from God to save her life and the lives of her people. She gathered her maidens around and together they sought and called upon the God of heaven! She did not care that her actions could have cost her not just her crown but her very life too! Rather, she chose to lay down her life and crown as a sacrifice for the peace and liberation of her people.

Her submission to the awesome power of a great God brought divine wisdom and favour through which both her and her people were saved from the plots of the enemy. The bible says "No greater love hath any man than this - a man laying down his life for his friends. This was what our Lord Jesus did...by dying for us on the cross... and we ought to emulate Him.

By building a prayer palace, you are sacrificing your comfort and time to reach out graciously to others in need.

Remember:

Freely you have received the life of Christ as a ransom for yours... freely you must now give yours too by sacrificially giving your time to be a blessing to all those around you! And remember, he who wins a soul is considered wise before God!
